2015 Title V Seminar

The ever changing field of environmental compliance leaves businesses continuously navigating the complicated world of complex environmental laws and regulations. Adding to the difficulty is the increasing public scrutiny of industry permits and the trend towards self-certification. Therefore, the need for staying at the forefront of meeting permit obligations is more relevant than ever. Come learn the necessary information to apply for, comply with, and renew Title V and construction permits!

On July 28, 2015, IERG, in cooperation with the Illinois EPA, will host the 12th Annual Title V Seminar. The Title V Seminar is your best opportunity to find out what relevant environmental issues your business or clients are facing. Key persons who administer Illinois' Air Pollution Control Programs and confer with facilities on regulatory and compliance matters are the featured speakers. The Seminar will provide a comprehensive review and update of requirements related to Illinois air permitting, standards, and compliance. The speakers will cover these important topics:

- Title V Permit Basics
- An Update on New and Upcoming Air Regulations
- Effective Permitting Strategies
- Permit Renewal Issues
- Compliance Strategies and Enforcement Information
- NSR/PSD Permitting
- Industry Perspective and
- Other Hot Topics!

This is your chance to learn about your regulatory obligations and receive specific information on how best to verify and maintain compliance from those who administer the programs. In one room, in one day, you can hear what you need to know regarding coming changes to the air permitting program with special emphasis on Title V requirements. Got a question? Just ask it. Special time is devoted to each speaker after every presentation to address questions you have about the information presented. Don't miss this special opportunity!

All of the presentations are included in the handout materials so you can refer back to any of the information provided long after the seminar ends.

$220 IERG Member Rate
$270 for Non-Members

(Includes parking, lunch, refreshments, and conference materials.)

The Illinois Environmental Regulatory Group ("IERG") is a trade association organized to promote and advance the interests of its members in matters involving environmental regulation. IERG members are companies doing business in Illinois that are engaged in industry, commerce, manufacturing, trade, energy, and transportation.

IERG's mission is to:

- Advocate members' interests before governmental agencies, primarily the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency and the Illinois Pollution Control Board;
- Negotiate environmental policies, laws, and regulations, as they are promulgated, administered, and implemented by the State of Illinois; and
- Provide accurate and technically sound input early in the regulatory development and legislative processes to promote favorable outcomes for Illinois' business community.
